Part 1: Definitions, requirements

The European Standard EN 14016-1:2004 has the status of a
British Standard

ICS 01.040.91; 91.100.50

National foreword

This British Standard is the official English language version of EN 14016-1:2004. EN 14016-1:2004 is a candidate “harmonized” European Standard and fully takes into account the requirements of the European Commission mandate M/132, Floorings, given under the EU Construction Products Directive (89/106/EEC), and intended to lead to CE marking. The date of applicability of EN 14016-1:2004 as a “harmonized” European Standard, i.e. the date after which this standard may be used for CE marking purposes, is subject to an announcement in the Official Journal of the European Communities.

The European Commission in consultation with Member States has agreed a transition period for the co-existence of “harmonized” European Standards and their corresponding national standard(s). It is intended that this period will comprise a period, usually nine months, after the date of availability of the European Standard, during which any required changes to national regulations are to be made, followed by a further period, usually of 12 months, for the implementation of CE marking. At the end of this co-existence period, the national standard(s) will be withdrawn. In the UK, there is no corresponding national standard.

The UK participation in the preparation of EN 14016-1:2004 was entrusted by Technical Committee B/507, Paving units, kerbs, screeds and in situ floorings, to Subcommittee B/507/6, Screeds and in situ floorings, which has the responsibility to:

- aid enquirers to understand the text;
- present to the responsible international/European committee any enquiries on the interpretation, or proposals for change, and keep the UK interests informed;
- monitor related international and European developments and promulgate them in the UK.

A list of organizations represented on this subcommittee can be obtained on request to its secretary.
